COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARDS

The Association of Washington Business Community Service Awards recognize our members' volunteerism and contributions which make our communities better places to live and work.

The Community Service Awards will be presented during a special dinner held in conjunction with the Association of Washington Business Annual Spring Meeting in Spokane on May 19 & 20. The Awards dinner will be held on the evening of May 19, commencing with keynote speaker Colleen Brown, president & CEO of Fisher Communications, Inc.

Awards are divided into classifications for large, medium and small businesses. You may submit entries for projects that support education, youth organizations, community beautification projects, community organizations that help people in need or programs recognizing volunteerism. Finally, there is a special general category for projects which mobilize communities into action.

A panel of judges will review the nomination forms and winners will be notified in time to make arrangements to attend the awards presentation in Spokane. Please let us know if you would like your nomination materials returned to you.

AWB will provide photos of the awards presentation along with press releases for local news media. Award winners will be recognized in AWB's magazine, Washington Business.
